START MOVEMENT TO REMOVE FAIN

AMERICAN FEDERATION OF LA-
BOR ENDORSES MOVEMENT BEGUN IN STATE OF OKLAHOMA.

WASHINGTON, July 17.—The powerful machinery of the American Federation of Labor has been put behind the movement recently started by the Oklahoma Federation of Labor to have John A. Fain, democrat, removed as United States attorney for the western district of Oklahoma. In a long statement given out Monday, Secretary Frank K. Morrison, federation secretary, detailed the charges made by Edgar R. Fenton, president of the State Federation of Labor of Oklahoma, and said he regarded the case as of national importance. The charges are that Fain attempted to distort the federal statutes in order to send to the penitentiary a 17-year-old girl and eighteen other telegraph operators who took part in the recent strike against the Western Union.

Morrison also said that Fain owes his appointment to Senator Gore and he therefore sent a communication to Gore on the matter. The charges state that Fain added to a long list of activities hostile to organized labor by now attempting to use a federal statute to interfere with the established right of strike and peaceful picketing guaranteed under the laws of Oklahoma.

The fact that the case has been brought into a federal court, gives it a national importance to organized labor, Morrison said, and President Fenton left Washington yesterday for Indianapolis to confer on the subject with the heads of the United Mine Workers, the Building Trades and other big national labor organizations with headquarters in the middle west.

Governor Says He'll Not Run Against Gore

OKLAHOMA CITY, July 17.—The statement of John A. Whitehurst, president of the state board of agriculture, in suggesting Governor Robertson as a candidate against T. P. Gore for United States senator, reached the Alfonso-Gaston stage yesterday.

"I appreciate the compliment and I will be just as complimentary as Mr. Whitehurst and nominate him for the place," said the governor as he referred jokingly to the mention of his name.

The governor told newspaper men that just now he has his hands full being governor, and is not considering being a candidate for any other place.

Those most interested in the retirement of Senator Gore feel that further delay in an aggressive campaign against the blind senator may work to the disadvantage of the opposition. E. G. McAdams, Oklahoma City attorney and former president of the State Bar association, is already in the race and making an active, though quiet campaign.

Attorney General Freeling is mentioned as a candidate and some definite statement from him is expected within the next few days.

THE EDESEL FORD CASE GETS WILSON RAPPED

WASHINGTON, July 17.—Exemption from military service of Edsel Ford, son of the Detroit manufacturer, was the subject of an attack in the senate yesterday by Senator Sherman, republican, Illinois, who said young Ford was "a presidential pet" and had been saved from serving in the army by an abuse of executive power.

NEW OKLAHOMA POSTMASTERS APPOINTED THIS MORNING

By the Associated Press
WASHINGTON, July 17.—President Wilson today sent to the senate nominations of about five hundred postmasters. They included T. Lee Thompson, Ardmore; John W. McCracken, Nowata; and Orville Knight, Nowata.

Rev. Ham at His Best Last Evening; Sermon on Samson Best Yet Heard In the City

A large congregation attended the Ham-Ramsay revival last night and heard a powerful sermon by Rev. M. P. Ham.

Evangelist Ham said in part: "St. Paul tells us that every character and historical event recorded in the Old Testament, which was an example of a warning to us. Samson was a child of promise. Because of their lapse into idolatry and disobedience, God had permitted Israel to be sorely oppressed by the Philistines. They were not permitted to have any blacksmiths, lest they make weapons; their crops were confiscated, and their condition was worse than that of the Mexican peons. They cried unto God for deliverance and God heard their cry and sent an angel to the wife of Manoah to instruct her how she should rear the son she was to bear. He was to be a Nazirite."

"Samson was that son, and his mother reared him according to the divine instructions, and God endowed him more marvelously in the matter of physical strength than any other man who ever lived. Had he rightly used his endowments his career would have been a source of great honor to himself, satisfaction to his parents and glory to his God."

"If you are a Christian, you too are endowed with marvelous gifts. Will you use them to God's glory, or abuse them to your shame and Christ's reproach?"

Parental Indulgence Ruinous.
"Evidently Samson's father had been over-indulgent to the boy who became spoiled and wilful and disobedient. His first sin was to go courting among the enemies of his nation and his God, in direct violation of God's instructions and against the protest of his father. He married at different times two heathen women who were idol worshippers."

"In order to more completely seduce and ensnare him, the Philistines gave him a great banquet and he drank and revelled with them as they drank to their idol, Dagon, and mocked his God, Jehovah. When the world wants to use a church member to further its unholy ends it always commences by paying him money. But in the end they will ridicule and mock him as they did Samson."

"As Samson was on his courting journey a lion attacked him and with his naked hands he rent it asunder as a woman would tear a piece of rotten cloth. Making a spiritual application of the lesson, a God-endowed man need ever fear any lion or the devil, or of lust or passion."

"In defiance of the laws of God and to the humiliation of his father and mother Samson married the Philistine girl he wanted, the daughter of a Timnite. At the wedding banquet he proposed a riddle and challenged the young bloods of the Philistines, to solve it or forfeit to him thirty changes of raiment."

"His wife inveigled him into telling her this riddle and then betrayed the secret to his enemies, whereupon he deserted her. Two lessons are drawn from this, namely that a Godless wife is apt to become a snare, and that a man who does not respect his mother enough to obey her counsel is not apt to be true to his wife. So both Samson and his wife got just about what was coming to them."

In like manner the preacher drew forceful spiritual and homely lessons from every incident in the remarkable career of this strange and remarkable man. One of these lessons was the progressiveness of sin. Samson descended from one sin to another till he brought ruin upon himself.

"The fundamental mistake of Samson was lightly esteeming his call of God and his God-given endowments. He hadn't as much pride as the heathen monarch, Alexander the Great, who when asked to run in the Marathon races answered, 'I will if you will give me kings to run with.' The pusillanimous old backslidden church member will deign to offer him as a running mate."

"Samson was a Nazirite, under (Continued on Page Eight.)

FREELING MAY BE GORE OPPONENT

THE ATTORNEY GENERAL ADMITS THAT HE IS IN THE RACE; FULL STATEMENT SOON.

OKLAHOMA CITY, July 17.—Attorney General S. P. Freeling yesterday responded to the frequent mention of his name as a possible contender for the democratic nomination for United States senator in the primary next August by issuing a statement, which was construed in capitol political circles as the equivalent of a definite announcement that he will oppose Senator Thomas P. Gore for the senatorial toga.

Freeling has been mentioned for several weeks in democratic press and political circles as a possible candidate for the nomination, and the statement yesterday was in response to requests from his friends that he give some intimation as to his intentions.

Full Statement Soon.
Although reserving his definite formal announcement for a "few days," the attorney general in the statement issued yesterday, sets forth the dominant features of the platform on which he will seek the nomination if he enters the race and declares that if he becomes a candidate he will begin an aggressive campaign as soon as the important duties of his office will permit.

"Of course no man can afford to longer ignore the solicitation of his friends, who have honored him by such a generous requests to stand for United States senator," said General Freeling.

"It is equally true that any citizen would strongly desire the honor of representing this state in the senate and the opportunity for service which a membership in such a body affords, but the burden of great problems pressing for immediate solution before our department has permitted little time for reflection on the subject."

DELAY OF WAR LABOR BOARD IN ANNOUNCING AWARD IN WAGE DISPUTE BRINGS STRIKE

By the Associated Press
BOSTON, July 17.—Car service on street subway and elevated lines here and in twelve adjacent cities and towns is tied up today as a result of a strike of eight thousand union employees of the Boston Elevated Railway system.

Thousands of people walked from their suburban homes, while scores of extra trains were added to the Boston and Maine and the Boston, Albany and New York railroads which were pressed into service. The strike was called as a protest against the alleged delay by the War Labor Board in announcing the award in the wage dispute. The men want an eight hour day and seventy-three and one-half cents per hour for their labor.

Martial Law for Texas Town Will End Next Friday

LONGVIEW, Texas, July 17.—Martial law, in effect here since Sunday because of racial trouble between white men and negroes, will be terminated Friday, unless there is some outlook for development necessitating its continuance beyond that day.

Texas Rangers, operating under direction of Capt. W. M. Hanson, continued today their round-up of white men implicated in the clash with the negroes last Friday and the burning of negro houses, arresting nine more men on warrants charging arson. They were released on $14,000 bonds each.

Correll, widow of an American citizen murdered by Mexicans near Colonia, Mexico, twenty-seven miles north of Tampico, is in Washington today to lay her case before the state department and President Wilson, and to demand indemnity and reparation for the wrongs. COMMERCIAL CLUB GETS ACTION ON SCHEDULE

For some time the directors of the Ada Commercial Club have been attempting to get action on the proper officers, looking to a change in the Frisco schedule which would give Ada a better outlet to the south.

Mr. O. N. Walker, secretary of the club, reports success in the movement thus far, in that he was enabled to get Mr. W. L. Price, passenger agent of the railway administration, of Oklahoma City, down here yesterday for a conference in regard to the matter.

Mr. Price and Mr. Walker went into the matter thoroughly and Mr. Price has agreed to take the matter up and see just what he can do toward giving the relief sought. It will necessitate a trip on his part to Washington, but he is willing to make it and says that he will make it at an early date.

Mr. Price's suggestion was that No. 507 should run on through to Madill, making it back through Ada in the afternoon about the same time that it leaves here for the east under the present arrangement.

The Commercial Club officials are to be commended for what they have been able to do in the matter thus far.

No dances have been reported in the city within the past few days either private or public. As far as the reporter can learn none will be held within the next four or five weeks as the atmosphere at present is very warm.

ENGLAND MAY RECALL ENVOY FROM VATICAN

LONDON, July 16.—The British government is considering the question of withdrawing its envoy from the vatican, Cecil B. Harmsworth, under-secretary of state of foreign affairs, declared in the house of commons today.

Mr. Harmsworth added that he had no confirmation of the statement made by Robert J. Lynn, unionist member, who had questioned the government that giving "to the hostility of the vatican to the allies during the war the continued presence of the envoy was causing considerable resentment among many who had lost relatives in the war."

SUNDRY CIVIL BILL PASSES OVER VETO

Correspondence of the Associated Press
WASHINGTON, July 17.—Amended to provide for $14,000,000 for the rehabilitation of wounded sailors, soldiers and marines, the sundry civil bill vetoed by the president, passed the house again today and was sent to the senate.

The weather man announces that Friday will be fair in this community.

WASHINGTON, July 17.—The name of the Ninetieth division, which won for itself such a proud record in the recent war, is to be forever perpetuated numerically in the skeleton organization of the regular army, according to the reorganization plans of the national guards as just announced by Secretary Baker.

The Thirty-sixth division will be the designation of a third division raised from Oklahoma and Texas, if ever an emergency arises requiring it.

Sixty-fourth Division.
The complete plans for the reorganization of the national guards calls for the grouping together of Oklahoma and Texas in division No. 64, and if war comes again the two states will form the "Sixty-fourth division of the army, instead of the Thirty-sixth."

Southern states east of the Mississippi river and the states of Texas, Missouri, Oklahoma and Arkansas, will be permitted to furnish approximately one-third of the national guard strength of the nation.

Two Infantry Regiments.
The table for Oklahoma calls for two regiments of infantry, one battalion of field artillery, one company of engineers, one signal company (radio), and one field hospital company.

The organization table provides for 47 regiments and 18 battalions of infantry; six regiments, 17 squadrons and 19 troops of cavalry; 10 regiments, 20 battalions and seven batteries of field artillery, and 74 coast artillery companies, with additional forces of engineers, sanitary and signal corps.

65 Men per Company.
A maximum expansion to about 440,000 men, or 800 per senators and congressmen is provided for, but the units for the time being are to be organized on basis of 65 men per company of infantry, as appropriations for the national guard for the fiscal year 1920 permit only the organization of the guard on the basis of 200 men for each senator and representative, giving an aggregate strength of about 106,000.

Of the southern states, Texas was assigned the largest number of units, six regiments of cavalry, three regiments of infantry and one field artillery regiment.

New York Leads.
New York, due to its preponderance of population, will lead the nation in armed guard personnel.

Pennsylvania ranks second. The letter sent to the state adjutant generals authorize them to proceed with the organization of the units assigned immediately. Recognition will be given by the war department as soon as inspectors show the units qualified to receive federal support.

Southern States.
Arkansas—One regiment of infantry, one battalion of engineers, one ambulance company.

Louisiana—One regiment of infantry, one battalion of field artillery, one signal company (wire), one field hospital company.

Texas—Three regiments infantry, six regiments cavalry, one regiment field artillery, one company engineers, one signal company (wire), one field hospital company, one ambulance company.

MUSKOGEE, July 16.—Tracts of Indian land in thirty-seven counties will be offered at auction sales conducted by the government beginning Thursday at Claremore and ending July 26 at Sallisaw.

The tracts vary in size from ten acres to 650. No bids are accepted at below the appraised value, which runs from $2 to $100 an acre. Ten per cent of the bid must be paid at the time of the sale, while 6 per cent interest is charged on the deferred payments.

Much good oil and gas land is said to be included in the tracts which are offered for sale. There is also much good agricultural land in the holdings.

The sales start at 10 o'clock in the morning and will be held in front of the federal buildings in Tulsa and Muskogee.

The Senate Must Accept the Pact, Says C. B. Ames

OKLAHOMA CITY, July 17.—The smallest change to the peace treaty by any amendment, though it be of minor importance, may entirely sever the United States from membership in the league of nations and precipitate it into an individual state of war with Germany.

That assertion was made by C. B. Ames, assistant to the attorney general at Washington, who is at his home here on a brief business trip, and he followed it by pointing out the steps which would attend any change of the treaty in its present form.

Gore's Attitude Puzzling.
"Only a bare majority vote in the senate is necessary for the adoption of an amendment to the league treaty," he said. "In case an amendment is adopted the question will then be whether the senate will adopt the treaty as amended. This cannot be done unless the senate gives a full two-thirds vote in favor of adoption. A single vote over the one-third minority would mean the rejection of the amended treaty."

"The president must have a majority vote of the senate in order to avoid amendment. At the present time all Washington is in the dark as to the position of some of the senators on the question of the proposed amendments. Senator Gore's attitude is puzzling. His vote may be the one to turn the tide."

Three Courses of Action.
"If the senate consents to an amended treaty, it will then remain for President Wilson to act upon it in one of three ways:

"Reject it by disapproval; return it to the senate for further consideration; or submit it to Germany and the other twenty-six nations for their acceptance or rejection."

Ames pointed out that in case the amended treaty was disapproved by the president, the signature of the United States would be automatically left off the peace treaty and this country would not be a party to it.

Soldiers Testify to Many Outrages Committed Upon Them by Their Own Officers

WASHINGTON, July 17.—Six former Army soldiers testified Tuesday before a special house committee investigating alleged cruelties to military prisoners in France, declared that merciless assaults were committed without provocation on the prisoners by arrogant officers in charge of the prison and camps. Only one of the witnesses, all of whom were charged with being absent without leave, was convicted, the others having been acquitted or the charge dismissed.

The "bastille," the "stockade," "prison farm No. 2," and "St. Arr's hotel," also known as the "brig," were the places named by the witnesses as the scene of the alleged cruelties, which were said to have extended over several months in 1918. Some officers in charge of the prison camps, it was said, had been convicted by court-martial and others were awaiting trial.

General Not Tried.

Lieut. "Hard Boiled" Smith, one of the prison camp officers, was mentioned frequently, while others named were Lieutenants Mason and Sullivan, and Sergeants Ball, Wolfmeyer and Bush.

"Did they try the general in charge of the camp?" asked Chairman Royal Johnson, who left his seat in congress to serve with the army abroad.

"Not that anyone heard," responded the witness.

When Lieut. "Hard Boiled" Smith was tried at Tours early this year, a hundred witnesses appeared against him and he was convicted, testified Sidney Kemp, New York City, who was a corporal of Company F, 102nd engineers, Twenty-Eighth division.

Food Quality Poor.

"Several of the soldiers testified that in addition to being beaten, food in small amounts and of poor quality was supplied and that the bedding was poor, sometimes the mattress being in mud under a small tent."

"A prisoner was snubbed and an officer says, 'Take that smile off or I will.'" A. H. Mendleberg, Baltimore, who served with the base hospital 42, testified. "The officer did by rolling the man in the mud," Mendleberg added.

When telling of poor food Mendleberg said that "if you asked for an extra piece of bread you were flat on your back."

Meals, Mendleberg and others said, consisted of a stew made from canned beef, one slice of bread and part of a cup of coffee. Sometimes only the stew was served, witnesses said.

MODERN OSTEOPATHY AND APPENDICITIS

There is seldom a day passes that I do not treat some one with appendicitis, and in the majority of the cases they have been advised to have the appendix cut out.

Now do not get the idea that an osteopath would not resort to surgery in appendicitis, there are many cases where it is necessary, and saved lives. They do not all survive the operation by any means, but many do.

Out of about 1,500 cases of appendicitis that I have treated, there has been to my certain knowledge not more than fifteen that had to resort to surgery, three of which died. Most of the others would have been operated on, had they not tried Osteopathy first and I feel sure there would have been a great number of deaths, under the best surgical care.

Appendicitis in most cases is caused by constipation, and the whole alimentary tract is more or less diseased, so you have cut off just a piece of the diseased part, in an operation and you are lucky if you do not have an adhesion, necessitating another operation. I treat many who are suffering from adhesions and other troubles after surgical operations, and in many cases can break up adhesions. I am not fighting surgery, but believe it should be a last resort, and not a first.

Do not let anyone make you believe that an osteopath would romp on your appendix and burst it. You who have taken the treatment and are reading this article, know that there is not an ounce of pressure used near the appendix, and that the spine gets most of the attention. We sure up your constipation, without cathartics, and the appendix cures up just like the rest of the bowel.

It is not possible to know the exact condition of the appendix, the pain does not always tell. I know of a man who was walking around on the street, when his appendix burst, and he was not aware of the fact that he had appendicitis, and was not under treatment, but he was operated on within a few hours, and had no complications. Another with acute appendicitis went so far as to be at the hospital and was taken in to the operating room, got cold feet and backed out. He came to me the same day and took Osteopathic treatment, and says he never had a pain after the third treatment; it has been five years, and no return of the trouble.

The people who make a fight on osteopathy are those who have never taken a treatment, or have some selfish reasons.

If you want to make enemies or show your ignorance, just wage a fight on osteopathy. There are thousands who have taken the treatment and know that it is good in all kinds of sickness and diseased conditions.

It gets results and results tell. Osteopathy is not infallible, it makes no claim to cure every diseased condition, but it cures many when everything in the way of treatment by other methods have failed.

The more you know about it the more confidence you will have and you will use it in all manner of sickness and disease.

What Ye Think! Household Booz Under Ban Also

WASHINGTON, July 17.—Flushed with their sweeping victory over the "liberals" Monday, some of the "bone dry" members of the house determined upon a plan to make the prohibition enforcement bill even more drastic than it now stands.

This plan is aimed at the element that laid in a supply of liquors before the war prohibition act became operative July 1. Notice to this effect was served at a meeting of the judiciary committee today.

When consideration of the bill is resumed an amendment will be offered to eliminate the provision legalizing the possession in residences of intoxicants. The reiterated charges that many members of congress and wealthy citizens have stored up in their cellars large quantities of wines, whisky and beer, the "bone dry" advocates declare, make it necessary to insert in the enforcement legislation a prohibition against the possession of liquors regardless of when purchased.

It is not believed consideration of the "dry" measure can be resumed until Friday. In any event, it will not be passed before next week, according to present indications.

OIL WELL AT ROFF MAKING GOOD SHOWING

Speculation in Oklahoma oil has about reached its climax and conservative investment in this line has taken its place. Considerable excitement is being manifested at this time by people interested in the Oklahoma oil game by results given by the shallow test on the Smith leases north of Roff. The test has been in progress for several days and Saturday at noon the well was shot at a depth of 460 feet with a good flow and plenty of gas. The slush has been cleaned out since that time and indications point to 25 or 30 barrels. The well was capped Wednesday and the rig moved to a nearby lease where another test well is under way.

The promise for an abundance of oil and gas around Roff are very flattering and those who have the development in hand expect to give Roff territory a thorough test and that oil will be found is confined to the less optimistic.

The drillers who are doing the work and who have had wide and varied experience in the oil field is all over this section, express the opinion that oil will be found here.

With the present prospects, property values are daily increasing and lucky indeed is the man who has property located near Roff. If you wish to invest your money and live in the best place in the world and among as good class of people as can be found anywhere you will be consulting your best interests to head for Roff and make a thorough investigation before locating elsewhere.—Roff Eagle.

Ed McClery and family visited relatives at Vanoss Saturday and Sunday.

Quite a number of the Carley singing class attended singing at Hart Sunday night. We are glad to have them. Come again.

B. A. Howard and wife left Monday morning for Byrds Mill where he will teach his next school. We hope they will have a better home than they did at Hart; while we don't think they could have moved to a better place or where there were any better people, anyway, Mr. Howard and wife were friends to everyone around Hart and we hated to see them leave and invite them back at any time. Mrs. Howard was our organist and Mr. Howard was one of our leaders in singing.

The regular school meeting was held Friday for the purpose of electing one new trustee; as Mr. H. C. Filmore's time was out, Mr. Proctor was elected trustee.

Warner's Rust-Proof Corsets—

How to Wash Corsets

WATER will not hurt a Warner's Rust-Proof Corset. You can wash it like any lingerie. The fabrics are in no way affected by good hard scrubbing and all metal parts are rust-proof.

Here's the easiest way to do the washing.

Immerse the corset in lukewarm water until thoroughly wet. Place the corset on a washboard and scrub with good soap and a stiff brush. Rinse the corset and hang it out on the line until dry. Iron if you like.

Before washing it is always a good plan to remove the hose supporters, as much washing will kill the elastic. You won't need to remove the boning, it's all rust-proof.

When the wash-woman walks out

Washwomen are, as all of us—but human at the best. The heat of summer that provokes us to petulance and bestirs us to yearnings for a holiday, awakens in them the same emotions and desires.

If, therefore, your laundress be one of those who has succumbed to the lure of summer and walked out, the occasion should not be one for bickering.

For in the emergency our FAMILY LAUNDRY SERVICE is at your disposal.

Our family washing methods conserve as well as cleanse your clothes. There is no boiling, no rubbing, no scorching, and no buttons broken or torn loose. Our way, the modern way, is one of sousing and rinsing in soft water and suds of pure, white soap.

When the summer sun becomes oppressive, call us up and we will instruct the driver to call for your family bundle and your washday troubles.

SOURCE OF ADA'S WATER SUPPLY

Where Wheat, Corn and Cotton Grow in the Same Field; Where Cattle in Great Herds Graze Upon a Thousand Hills; Where the Oil Spouts From the Earth in Many Valleys, and the People and Banks Have Money to Burn!

THE CITY OF ADA

Is the Railroad, Industrial and Educational Center of Southern Oklahoma and the County Seat of Pontotoc County.

STREET SCENES IN ADA

ADA has the largest cement manufacturing plant in the world; one of the largest glass manufacturing plants in America; three main lines of railroad; cotton oil mill; compress; ice plant; gins; stores; garages and other lines of business galore, BUT THERE IS ROOM FOR MORE!

The city gets its water supply from an artesian spring which bubbles in all its purity from the mountain side twelve miles away, which makes it one of the healthiest cities in the whole state of Oklahoma.

In close proximity to the city is an inexhaustible supply of natural gas; oil wells are being brought in daily; we have glass sand, lime, brick and cement shale to last for generations, and a great deposit of asphalt for paving and other purposes.

Ada has the East Central State Normal, one of the best educational institutions to be found anywhere, high school, four ward schools and bonds voted for another. Practically all the religious denominations are represented and the moral atmosphere is all that could possibly be desired. We have a modern hospital and all other conveniences found in any up-to-date city and it was all acquired in the short span of eighteen years.

Ada is the county seat of Pontotoc county, one of the richest agricultural and mineral counties in the state, and ere long is to erect a county court house second to none in the state.

Providence has smiled abundantly and profusely upon this section, and nature has provided us with every natural resource that man could desire.

Pontotoc County Agriculturally Speaking

Pontotoc County, of which Ada is the County Seat, is the most diversified county in the State agriculturally. The rainfall is around thirty-five inches a year. Corn grows from thirty to sixty bushels an acre. Cotton averages more than a half bale to the acre and the maximum yield of the state in 1915 was near Ada. Peanuts, Sweet Clover, Alfalfa, Sorghum, Kafir Corn, Milo Maize, Sudan, Millet, Fruits, Garden Crops, Water Melons, Cantaloupes, and a host of other crops thrive. The northern part of the county is composed of a sandy loam, suitable for Sweet potatoes, Peanuts, Cotton and Millet. From Ada south is black land for Corn, Cotton and the various pasture grasses. In the extreme southern part are rolling prairies which have never been broken. Here the finest ranches in the state can be found.

The livestock industry is improving. More than five hundred head of registered cattle have been brought into the county within the last six months. Registered hogs are numerous. Home-owners are out of debt and prosperous.

The poultry products of the county alone each year run close to $1,000,000.

Much of the land is for sale at a fair price. For the man of moderate means looking for a larger farm or for an opportunity to deal in livestock, this county offers wonderful opportunities.

AGRICULTURE IN PONTOTOC COUNTY

More Industries Needed!

AND because more industries are needed this page in the News is addressed to the stranger in other states. The News finds its way to the congested centers of the East, and it is to the manufacturers of the East that we are turning in an effort to arouse them to the wonderful opportunities awaiting them in God's great outdoors in Oklahoma, the most lavishly blessed state in the Union for natural resources and opportunities.

We need cotton mills; shoe factories; shirt and overall factories; harness factories; packing houses; smelters, and a dozen and one other factories and industrial institutions that appreciate being close to the raw material, appreciate the advantages of natural gas at cheap rates for fuel, and where labor can be had at reasonable rates.

Why not leave the maddening throngs of the congested centers? Why not come where the turmoil and strife of labor wars are unknown? Why not get in touch with the wide, wide world, where people breathe easy and enjoy the bounties of life as God intended they should?

Ada has factory sites to give away to the right kind of industries; we have propositions to offer men in every line of business and in all walks of life; we welcome competition, rather than fear it, and the latch string is always on the outside.

Ada has a Lions' Club and a live Chamber of Commerce with a paid secretary, whose duty it is to inform you of all the facts you would naturally like to have were you seeking a new location. If you want more information about this city, county and state, write the secretary, Mr. O. N. Walker, and the information will be forthcoming. Do it today, lest you forget!

Telephone No. 4.

BRITISH FEDERALIZATION.

The National Party of South Africa, asking for the restoration of the Boer republic, is informed by Premier Lloyd-George that such independence is impossible, because the present system of government of the Union of South Africa is based on a solemn and lasting agreement between the British and the Boers of that country. He adds that South Africa already possesses "self-determination" in a real sense, having a government acceptable to the majority and possessing as much freedom as any of the other self-governing members of the British Empire.

This seems a fair statement. South Africa has its own premier and parliament, like Canada and Australia. The absence of anything approaching tyranny or usurpation by the British is seen in the fact that the South African administration is, and has been for some years, in the hands of the Boers.

It is now suggested that this federal form of government be applied to the British Isles. It might, indeed, prove to be the best solution of the Irish problem.

England and Scotland would like to have their own parliaments for local affairs, though they have been less insistent about the matter than Ireland has. The adoption of a uniform system of that sort for the three big national units comprised in the British Isles—the Welsh being included, presumably, with the English—would seem to insure Ireland fair treatment.

That island has long had representation in the British parliament on the same basis as England and Scotland, and in fact of late years has had more members than her comparative population would properly entitle her to. Her real grievances at the present time seem to be founded not on any lack of proportional representation, but on the continuance of certain economic discriminations enforced against her by a hostile majority in the British parliament. With her own local premier and parliament, Ireland could probably compel a fairer adjustment, and the arrangement should go far to eliminate old grudges and satisfy racial pride.

It would be, in effect, much like the American system. England, Scotland and Ireland (like the self-governing colonies, would correspond to American states, each administering its own local affairs, and all represented on a basis of common interest in the federal or imperial parliament at London.

THE FAMILY THAT GAVE MOST.

Who gave most to his country in the great war? It is a question that can never be answered, because so many factors that enter into the problem of war sacrifice are incommensurable—they cannot be expressed in figures or words. But so far as ordinary reckoning goes, the biggest sacrifice seems to have been that of a French farmer named Vanhee, of the village of Reminghe, near Ypres.

Mr. Vanhee had 36 children, 22 sons and 14 daughters, all living when the war broke out—a family whose dimensions alone are remarkable, especially in France.

Thirteen sons were killed in battle. Three were discharged and with grave injuries, one of them losing both legs, another being rendered blind and deaf and the third suffering a severe skull wound requiring trepanning. One daughter was killed by a German shell. The father himself and another daughter were both shot without trial by the Germans for going innocently to Lille to celebrate the hundredth birthday of a relative.

Father, thirteen sons and two daughters killed and three sons maimed for life—what family in all the world has, in Lincoln's noble words, "laid so costly a sacrifice upon the altar of freedom?"

Every country has its camouflage. It is the camouflage of the Americans to claim that they are doing wonders when they are merely muddling. It is the camouflage of the British to claim that they are muddling when they are accomplishing a particularly adroit piece of work.

In Henry Ford's million-dollar suit against the Chicago Tribune, the sociological department of the Ford plant is to the fore, producing officials testifying that health and service records are kept of all employees, and that National Guardsmen who went to Mexico got their jobs back.

By all means sympathize with the under dog, but before you give your sympathy see that he is not a wolf.

Will President Wilson speak at Ardmore on his swing around the circle? Har! Har! Har!

The State Press

Muskogee Times-Democrat: Some preachers undertake to attract large congregations and stimulate interest by putting on their own vaudeville stunts, but Rev. Harold C. Cooke, pastor of Tigert Memorial church, Tulsa, does not. He goes out and hires a regular vaudeville artist from one of the show houses and furnishes real talent in the vaudeville line. There will also be ice cold lemonade to go with the jazz. Incidentally there will be front page space in the newspapers and this advertising will probably bring the crowds. Sometimes it is cheaper to hire a vaudeville actor than it is to buy advertising space.

McAlester News-Capital: A measure has been introduced in congress by a member from Kansas forbidding the president to absent himself under any circumstances from the United States, thus insuring the president's personal touch with the public business at all times. This is an admirable piece of cautionary statesmanship, worthy of the best traditions of the state that raised "Sockless" Jerry Simpson, Mary "Yellow" League and hell generally. Why not add to the gait of the nation as well as to a sense of public security by a provision requiring members of congress to remain in Washington during sessions of congress?

Get a New Line of Words.

Oklahoma City News: Words are funny things. They sometimes "get your goat"—just like people.

There are some words that are used so commonly that their constant repetition is an annoyance.

Don't you know some people who insist that EVERYTHING is "grand"?

It doesn't matter whether it's a piano, or a pudding, or a house or a baby—they're all "gr-a-nd."

And then there's "say listen!" which I'm afraid we're fated to hear for at least another generation because even the tiniest toddlers have caught it from their elders.

and—"absolutely!"

There are some people who never speak a sentence without bringing it in.

"Along this line" is another morsel that we hate to give up, as though weren't another phrase in the world that means the same thing—and that would sound better, just because it's different.

There's an expression in many business letters that always makes me snigger: "Same will have our attention."

The word SAME has a sort of chopped off at the neck effect.

The average man doesn't use a larger number of different words than could be printed on one page of an ordinary book—about three hundred—and there are 600,000 words in the dictionary!

There's really no excuse for anyone being uninterested just because they don't know enough words to add variety to their speech.

You'd get terribly tired of a person who always wore the same drab clothes.

Now words are just like clothes—they dress up our thoughts and so express them to others.

So get a new suit of words.

Ardmoreite: While Oklahoma, because of geographical location on the political map, may not be able to put through its candidate for the presidency, this state has a favorite son whose availability is not affected by political geography. Let all of us push forward to the best of our ability the promotion of Judge C. B. Ames for the attorney-generalship of the United States. A bird in the hand is worth two in the sage brush.

Sunny Dispositions.

I think it was Carlyle who said: "The man who can laugh way down deep in his diaphragm can never commit murder." And he should have added that the man with a whistling disposition can never be mean, abuse a child, betray a friend or refuse to pay his rent.—Fern Howard, in Milwaukee Sentinel.

Sympathetic Brothers.

The boys of the neighborhood were anticipating the time when they could go fishing. Everett, noticing his little sister standing inside the yard, watching them wistfully through the fence, and listening to their plans without joining the conversation, remarked in an aside to his companions: "Gee, it must be tough to be only a girl."

The Church-Goers.

If some men were to quote the well known psalm they would have to say, I was glad to make excuses when they said to us, "let us go into the house of the Lord." The "they" referring probably to the women of the house, or the church-going neighbors.—Exchange.

OLD NEWSPAPERS.

Are a most convenient thing to have around the house. They are good for wrapping bundles, starting fires and a hundred and one other things. The News gets hundreds of exchanges, and after these are examined here in the office they are tied into bundles of about a hundred and sold for five cents the bundle. Many times you will find a month's good reading in one of these bundles. Come in and get one.

Court News

Tom King has entered suit against the county for $39,364.00, to cover warrants he holds.

The mayor fined an Indian the customary $8.75 in police court this morning on a charge of being drunk.

The Oklahoma State Bank has entered suit against A. M. Cummings for the collection of the balance on a note for $837.35. The amount not yet collected is $549.00. The note was given November 30, 1917.

Beulah Curtis has sued her husband, J. H. Curtis, in the district court, for divorce. They were married in January, 1918. She states that he has become so vile and has used such language in speaking to her that she can no longer live with him in peace and therefore asks that the bonds of matrimony be permanently severed.

In the case of the State vs. Tom Cope, in which he was charged with pointing a weapon, was dismissed in county court yesterday on motion of the prosecuting attorney. The principal witness for the state said he believed the man was only pointing the pistol in fun and the attorneys for the state thus would not put the state to the expense of bringing the case to trial.

Commissioner Deal makes complaint that some of the citizens of the city are not conservative enough in their use of the running water. The water supply is running low at present and it must be conserved. There is no objection to using a reasonable amount of water on flowers, but Mr. Deal says they will not continue to permit the water to be used for raising crops and running all night in gardens, etc.

Captain Sam H. Hargis asks the News to call attention to the fact that many people are using 1917-18 auto tags instead of taking out tags for this year. There is a $50 fine for using the old tags and Captain Hargis is special enforcement officer for the collection of this tax and he is going to commence assessing the fine if the taxes are not paid. The tags can be gotten through the sheriff's office.

William Wrenn, a 16-year-old negro boy, was arrested last night on a charge of stealing onions and other vegetables from the garden of Joe Rushing near Ada. Mr. Rushing's folks had missed vegetables in considerable quantity of late and upon watching the garden they caught the boy in the act of stealing. He was placed under bond and will be given a hearing in a few days.

Sam Melville, of the Owl Creek community, was freed of a charge of operating a still on his place in the county court yesterday afternoon.

Mr. Melville is an Indian. He lives about four miles north of Stonewall. Officer P. G. Nebhut of Stonewall and John Ingram of Coal county went to his house early one morning last August and found in operation what they took to be a moonshine outfit, in the rear of his home. They arrested Mr. Melville and a man named William Frank, who was employed at Mr. Melville's place. Sheriff Duncan brought the man to Ada where they took charge of the still. It was made up of a five gallon can, a smaller can, and several lengths of pipe. The still was produced at the trial. The state introduced three witnesses. Sheriff Duncan, Mr. Ingram from Coal county and City Marshal Nebhut of Stonewall. The defense, represented by Date Crawford, J. W. Dean and C. O. Barton, introduced Mr. Melville, A. Floyd, Prof. Geo. H. Priest and several other character witnesses. The stand the defense took was that the still was a "choc" still and that he had nothing to do with it, not even knowing how to use it, but he gave permission for Mr. Frank to operate it on his place. Mr. Frank plead guilty to the charge some time ago and is now serving out his sentence. The jury in the case against Mr. Melville brought in a verdict of not guilty.

The case of the State vs. Frank Stevens and Lorenzo Johnson charged jointly with unlawful possession, was heard before Judge Busby this morning.

The only witness who testified for the state was Sheriff Duncan, who told of arresting the negroes and capturing the intoxicants. The defense placed both negroes on the stand.

The negroes lived in a house in the oil mill yard, in adjoining rooms. A coca-cola keg was found by the sheriff in which was nearly three gallons of corn whiskey. It was in one corner of the room and covered over with clothes. The negroes claimed that another negro had left it there and they did not know of its presence. It was in the room occupied by Stevens.

The jury in the case brought in a verdict of not guilty against Johnson and they could not agree on a verdict for Stevens. The defense was represented by John Crawford.

The county court, Judge Orel Busby presiding, went into the trial of civil cases this afternoon. The first case taken up was the Waples-Platter Grocery Company vs. Watson Brothers. This case was dismissed for want of prosecution.

SIDELIGHTS ON THE REVIVAL

The attendance is increasing daily at the children's rehearsal. They meet each afternoon at four.

Rev. B. H. Webster from Dallas, was on the preachers' rostrum last night. He is here visiting Dr. M. M. Webster.

A number of people from out of town were at the tabernacle last night. Many left the building to return to their homes on the south bound Katy.

W. L. McAnally lives in the Colbert community north of Ada. He is one of the most enthusiastic admirers of Mr. Ham and is on the platform at each service.

The crowd at the service last night was the largest since the opening except Sunday night. There must have been nearly three thousand present at last night's meeting.

The music director ask that the people who sing in the choir please come to the platform at the services without waiting to be asked. It takes time to wait for the singers to assemble and it is time lost.

Mr. H. A. Fairchild is an old friend and acquaintance of Mr. Ham, the evangelist. Mr. Fairchild was in Wichita Falls, Texas, at a time when the evangelist held a nine weeks meeting there. Mr. Fairchild states that he believes Mr. Ham to be the greatest preacher in the United States today.

Some young woman in Ada made the statement recently that she thought the way the preacher talked about the people who take part in innocent amusement showed him to be "common." Someone told Mr. Ham of her statement and he replied that it was the same old story of the sparrow and the crow. The sparrow and the crow got into an argument over which could whistle the better. They saw an ass coming up the road and asked him to be the judge. The ass decided in favor of the crow, so the sparrow was punished by having one of his eyes gouged out. When the sparrow arrived at his home he began wailing to his mate about his misfortune and she sympathized with him profusely. The sparrow told her he did not object to the crow having a prettier voice than his, and he did not object to losing his eye, but the thing that did worry him was that an ass was the judge. Mr. Ham says it takes all kinds of people to make up the world.

MARINE OFFICER EXPLAINS WHAT ARMY DIVISION IS

WASHINGTON, July 17.—What is a regular division?

This interesting inquiry comes from the U. S. Marines, serving with the Second Division, now on duty in Germany. The Second Division has a total strength of 26,467 officers and men. Of these 23,513 are men who are enlisted or were drafted for the period of the emergency only. The remaining 2,954 men must serve until their regular enlistment expires.

"The folks back home, when they read or speak of the First, Second, Third, Fourth or other regular divisions," says a Marine officer, "at once think of the old war-hardened veterans. There are as many real regulars in our division as in any other, and we have less than 3,000."

THE TOWN GOSSIP

By MILTON LESTER

MRS. BLINN, the mother of, B. H. EPPERSON, has a BRAND NEW car. THE FOURTH of July. SHE INVITED Mrs. H. C. Thompson. AND SOME other friends. TO TAKE a ride with her. TO SULPHUR. AS MRS. Thompson left. IN THE morning she gave her. HUSBAND THE hoss laugh. BECAUSE HE had to stay. AT HOME and look after the chickens. AND HOE the garden. AND GATHER the plums. AND MOW the lawn. AND PULL off some. OTHER STUNTS and put away. THE ONIONS and potatoes. THEY HAD a fine time. AT SULPHUR. ON RETURNING in the evening. A FRIEND told Mr. Epperson. THE BEST way to return. WAS THRU STRATFORD. AND THAT the road had. JUST BEEN worked and put in. FINE SHAPE for traveling. BUT IT had rained very hard. ON THE new road and. FIVE MILES from Sulphur. MR. EPPERSON ran his car. INTO A terrible mud hole. AND STAYED there. FOR TWO hours. UNTIL A Ford car came along. AND PULLED them out. THEY STARTED again. AND WENT a mile and the new car. WENT DOWN again in a mud hole. AND MR. Epperson got out. OF THE car and put some. CHAINS ON the wheels. BUT THE car only. GOT DEEPER into the mud hole. MR. EPPERSON got out. TO TAKE the chains off. THE HIND wheels and. FELL INTO the mud hole.

THE LADIES had to. VACATE THE car and. PULL HIM out. THEN A farmer drove by. IN A wagon and Epperson. PAID HIM three dollars. TO PULL him out. OF THE mud hole. A MILE and a half. TO DRY land. THE MOON was up and they. WERE ONLY ten miles. FROM SULPHUR. IN A long lane the car. MIRE DOWN again. IN A long lane near the home. OF A bolshevik farmer. AND THEY tried to hire. THE FARMER to pull. THE CAR out of the mud hole. BUT HE only gave them. THE HOSS laugh and said. HIS MULES were down in. THE PASTURE. BUT THE mules came up. TO SEE about the commotion. AND PUT their heads. OVER THE fence, and gave. THE TRAVELERS the hoss laugh. AS USUAL in such cases. MADE AND provided. BUT M. Epperson not to be. OUTDONE BY the grinning. BOLSHEVIKI FARMER hired. A BOY passing the road. TO GO ahead and hired. ANOTHER FARMER'S wagon. TO PULL them out. OF THE mud hole. FINALLY THE travelers. ARRIVED IN Ada. ON JULY fifth at 1 a. m. AND MRS. Thompson roused. HER SLEEPING and obedient. HUSBAND TO tell of her trip. AND FINE time had at Sulphur. BUT HE only snoozed a little. LOUDER AND turned over. AND LOOKED at the clock. AND THE ceiling and gave. HER THE hoss laugh.

This is an old saying, but a true one when applied to your health. If you want to prevent a case of sickness, don't wait until you are flat on your back, but take three or four doses of Schaap's Laxative Chill Tonic, especially when your tongue is coated or when you have a headache, weak or no appetite, and it will surprise you how much better it will make you feel.

Ada Playhouses

AT THE AMERICAN.

"Toys of Fate" as Nazimova's magnificent successor to "Revelations" is a vital human document in which this celebrated Russian actress, plays the part of Azah, a Gypsy Princess of whom fate demands that she avenge the wrong done her mother. The cup of love is placed at Azah's lips only to be snatched roughly away and life seems to play at cross purposes with this true hearted daughter of the Romany race. Beautiful and idyllic surroundings form the background for dynamic events of dramatic power, but finally reward and full recompense come to her when she has offered her life to save another and destiny at last gives her full measure of happiness.

There is unforgettable quality in all the big features shown at the American and "Toys of Fate" showing today and tomorrow is one of the very best this theater has offered.

AT THE LIBERTY.

At this ever popular play house today comes Fred Stone in one of those pleasing comedies such as he alone is capable of producing and its an Artcraft feature, the title is, "Johnny Get Your Gum" and it just has to please you.

Mrs. C. D. Price has as her guests this week, her brother C. C. Harris and family of Madill, who are also the guests of his parents, Mr. and Mrs. J. F. M. M'KEOWN ADVISES THE SOLDIERS ON INSURANCE

What are you going to do about your insurance policy? This is a question that should concern every discharged soldier, sailor and marine. This insurance was enacted by congress for your benefit, not only during the war but during the balance of your life.

My advice to every discharged soldier, sailor and marine is to hold on to your government insurance; keep your premiums paid and not fall behind. If circumstances have been such as to cause you to lapse your policy, then by all means re-instate it under the new liberal provision for reinstatement.

You may have this insurance up to $10,000, but if you cannot keep it all, keep what you can pay for. It may cause you a little temporary hardship and self-denial, but in the long run it will pay you well. You can convert it to a government endowment policy which will assure financial comfort in later years.

The six forms of permanent insurance offered by the government are:

- 1.—Ordinary Life.
- 2.—Twenty-Payment Life.
- 3.—Thrifts-Payment Life.
- 4.—Twenty-Year Endowment.
- 5.—Thirty-Year Endowment, and
- 6.—Endowment Maturing at the age of Sixty-Two.

There are two special advantages you have in all government policies of insurance:

1. A total disability clause making your policy payable at any time you may become totally and permanently disabled regardless of your age.
2. You may engage in civil life in any occupation, no matter how hazardous, or travel anywhere without affecting your insurance if you keep your premium paid.

The Pianist in the Next Room

Wonderful music is coming from the adjoining room. Who can be playing? Surely it is not one of the children, for the technique is perfect. Nor can it be an expert pianist, for even a Levitzki could not play with ten fingers such orchestral music as this. And yet it cannot be an automatic player because no mechanical instrument, though using hand-played rolls, could put such individuality, such subtle, personal shadings of expression into every note. Peep inside and you find that this surprising art is simply the inborn musical feeling of some ordinary mortal like you or me translated into harmony that all can enjoy through the medium of

Will Be 50 Cents a Month

Beginning August 1, 1919, the subscription price of The Ada Evening News will be

15c a week by carrier or mail---50c a month by carrier or mail, paid in advance---$5 a year by carrier or mail, paid in advance

This raise in the subscription price is necessary in order that we may meet the additional cost of issuing a larger and more inclusive newspaper. The readers now get as much news as the readers of daily papers in towns of 30,000 and 40,000 population. It costs a great deal more to produce a paper of this size and quality, and we believe the citizens of this town are willing to pay for such a newspaper.

Increased Cost of Labor

All of us thought prices would go down, once the war had stopped. Prices, however, have gone higher, necessitating higher wages, which mean a higher producing cost of newspapers. The News pays good wages, because it believes in getting good men and doing good work.

No Choice in the Matter

(Since the beginning of the war, almost every daily newspaper in the United States has raised the subscription price. We have kept the price of the News the same as it was years ago, for the reason that we did not want to appear to be profiteering. The time has come when we have no choice. We must raise the price. But before raising the price, we have endeavored to make the paper better as we have made it larger.

A glance at the prices below will show what other newspapers in the same class with the Ada Evening News are getting for subscriptions—

Name of Paper—	Month	Year
The Ardmoreite	.60	$6.00
The Ponca City News	.60	$5.00
Miami Daily News	.45	$5.00
McAlester News-Capital	.60	$5.00
Okmulgee Daily Democrat	.65	$7.50

A comparison of the subscription rates of the Ada Evening News with the rates of other newspapers shows that the News rates are still low. During the remainder of July, subscribers will be permitted to pay up for as long a time as they desire at the old rates of 40 cents a month, or $4.00 a year. This is an opportunity for you to save money.

We are glad to report that the health of this community is good at this writing.

The thresher has been running for the past week.

We hear that Mr. Pendleton has made over 1,100 bushels of oats this season.

Uncle Bud Taylor has made 46 bushels of No. 1 wheat off of his wee patch of wheat. We wonder if he won't invite us to come and eat some of his good new biscuit.

There was quite a crowd from this community at the unveiling of the W. O. W. Sunday. All reported a nice time.

Our school began Monday with Mrs. Ibert Baker as principal and Miss Grace Reynolds as assistant. My! they look like they could handle a switch all right. Better be good, I guess.

AMERICAN AMBASSADOR SAYS PRESIDENT WILL GIVE PERSONAL ATTENTION TO ADA PEOPLE'S PLEA.

WASHINGTON, July 17.—President Wilson will give personal consideration to the murder of John W. Correll, a resident of Oklahoma, and the mistreatment of his widow and son by Mexican bandits near Tampico on June 16. This was assured yesterday when Henry P. Fletcher, American ambassador to Mexico, who is now in this city, announced he would take up the matter with the president. The Correll case has already brought demands for action from the governor of Oklahoma and the members of that state delegation in congress. It is one of the most revolting of the many murders of Americans in Mexico.

The state department was unable today to supply any information tending to corroborate the statements of Ignacio Bonillas, Mexican ambassador in Washington, who has just returned from Mexico City that a number of Mexicans had already been executed for the murder of Americans.

When they erect a Statue to "Father," it will look like this. Father sometimes lacks Style, but when it comes to providing for Ma and the Kids, he is There and Over. A song-writer once wrote of a family where "Everybody Works But Father," which was so Unusual that the Song became Famous.

No Worms in a Healthy Child.

All children troubled with worms have an unhealthy color, which indicates poor blood, and as a rule, there is more or less stomach disturbance. GROVE'S TASTELESS CHILL TONIC given regularly for two or three weeks will enrich the blood, improve the digestion, and act as a General Strengthening Tonic to the whole system. Nature will then throw off or dispel the worms, and the Child will be in perfect health. Pleasant to take. 60c per bottle.

Heroes Hock War Crosses to Get Food to Live On

NEW YORK, July 17.—Down on the bowery in the junk-filled windows of pawn shops, hang bronze crosses with their little bits of ribbon, which were worn just a little while ago by doughboys for heroism in battle.

There you can see numerous D. S. C. and croix deguerres which hungry soldiers sold to keep from starving. One boy who was decorated for bravery in Belleau Wood parted with his distinguished service cross for $5. He sold at outright, the pawn broker will tell you.

In pawn shops in any part of the city are to be found many decorations. They mutely testify to the spirit of the soldiers who once fought in France, but who are too proud now to beg to keep from starving.

It will pay you to watch the Want Ad columns of the News.

M'KEOWN PUSHES CORRELL CLAIMS

ENTIRE OKLAHOMA DELEGATION HELPING HIM IN EFFORT TO GET MATTER TO WILSON.

WASHINGTON, July 17.—Congressman Tom D. McKeown of Oklahoma has announced that the entire Oklahoma delegation will go to the state department to demand action for the death of John W. Correll of Ada, Okla., who was killed in Mexico three weeks ago. The delegation will also attempt to see President Wilson.

McKeown and all the other members of the Oklahoma delegation received copies of the 700-word telegram Governor Robertson sent to the state department and to President Wilson.

Congressman McKeown, however, two weeks ago had taken the action that Governor Robertson requested, but the state department is not ready to make a report as McKeown asked. Congressman McKeown was at a loss to understand why a protest had not come from Oklahoma earlier. He has been playing a lone hand in attempting to get a report from the state department.

The Oklahoma delegation had a meeting and agreed to make vigorous presentation of the matter to the state department and to President Wilson. Congressman Tom D. McKeown, in whose district the injured family resides, has taken the lead in the matter and has had it up with the state department and the Oklahoma delegation is standing firmly behind him.

THN SENATE MUST ACCEPT THE PACT

Even though all the signatory nations accepted the amended treaty with the exception of Germany, its rejection by that country would practically render the treaty void as it is one of the principle contracting parties.

Germany May Reject Amendment.

"Any amendment puts the whole thing back up to Germany," was the opinion of Ames, "and Germany would probably be glad to reject the amendments if by using the pretext it could keep the United States out of the league. We would then have to draw up a separate peace treaty with Germany."

"It would be well for some senators to consider," Ames said, "that an amended treaty may necessitate a reopining of the whole subject and would react to give Germany the whip hand."

PROBE OF MEXICO TO BE DECIDED SOON

By the Associated Press

WASHINGTON, July 17. — The question of reporting out a joint resolution for investigation of Mexican conditions will be determined next Tuesday by the house rules committee, which has called Ambassador Fletcher as the first witness.

The resolution, introduced by Representative Gould, republican, of New York, calls for a far-reaching inquiry to be conducted by a joint congressional committee. Chairman Campbell of the rules committee announced today that the hearings would be made public. It is understood that the state department made no objection to appearance and testimony of the ambassador at a public session.

MANY REPUBLICAN LEADERS ON CONFERENCE LIST

By the Associated Press

WASHINGTON, July 17. — Senators Jones of Washington, Colt of Rhode Island, and Nelson of Minnesota, had been invited to call at the White House during the day, but Senator Jones was out of the city. Senators Borah, of Idaho, and Johnson, of California, two of the league of nation's bitterest opponents, were understood to be on the president's list of senators to be invited to conferences, but there was doubt in administration circles as to whether they would accept.

LANISING WILL NOT RESIGN FROM CABINET

By the Associated Press

WASHINGTON, July 17. — There is absolutely no truth in Paris dispatches stating that Secretary Lansing is to resign his cabinet position because he is dissatisfied with the peace treaty.

This was emphatically stated by state department officials when their attention was called to the rumor. "I am in position to say that there is absolutely nothing to it," declared one of the highest officials of the department.

REV. HAM AT HIS BEST LAST NIGHT

the sacred obligations of a vow which was to mark him as a man separated unto God for his service as a judge and prophet and delivered of his people. And the ordinary Christian's vow is equally sacred, and the man or the woman who ruthlessly violates it is guilty of treason to both Christ and his church. And remember that the church is his bride, and the church member who proves false to his vow is not one whit better than the wife who proves false to her husband and disgraces upon her father and mother, and so did Samson, and so does every backslider.

"Samson went down to Eshkalam and stripped thirty young bloods of their raiment and took the spoil and paid his forfeit, and then went back home; leaving the wife who had betrayed him. Her father gave her to another. But after putting awhile Samson went back to make up with her, and finding that she had been given to another man, he destroyed the Philistine harvest by catching 300 foxes and tying firebrands to their tails and turning them loose in the fields of wheat as it stood in the shock. Each fox sought refuge in a wheat shock only to abandon it and run into another as soon as it took fire, until the whole crop was destroyed.

"Then it was the turn of the Philistines to take revenge; so they burned Samson's father-in-law and all his family. In return for this, Samson slew right and left till his appetite for blood was satisfied, and then he went back home.

"Soon the Philistines demanded that his people surrender him or suffer dire consequences. He tells them that if they will agree not to harm him themselves, he will let them bind him and deliver him over to the Philistine. They did this; and as soon as he was carried into the Philistine camp he snapped the ropes as if they had been thread, grabbed the bleached jawbone of an ass and slew a thousand men and put the rest to flight.

"His next exploit was to go down to Gaza and fall in with an old harlot. Ascertaining that Samson was in the walled city, the authorities locked the gates. But when he found them locked, he just lifted them off the hinges, though they weighed a ton or more, and took them on his back and walked off with them.

"But Samson's weakness was women, and he met Delilah down in the valley of Horek, and like his first wife she obtained the secret of his power and betrayed him to his enemies. These shear him of the locks of his Nazarite vow, the secret of his power as a man separated unto God for his service. After having borne with him through many escapades, God now leaves Samson to the fate he has willfully chosen for himself.

Strength, Eyes and Life Lost.
"When his power was gone, poor old Samson had his eyes gouged out and was reduced to the menial work of an ox, grinding in a treadmill day in and day out. Did you ever hear a church member say of dancing, or playing cards, or taking an occasional drink, 'I can see no harm in it?' Well, that is because the devil has gouged out his eyes. When your spiritual eyes are gouged out you are morally blind and the devil will put you to grinding his mill."

The evangelist's dramatic illustration of the modern church member who has lost his power and been blinded by the devil and put to grinding in Satan's treadmill just as old blind Samson trod the Philistine mill; the preacher talking to himself; the fallen church member thinks to himself, was one of the most forceful and impressive things ever witnessed.

There never has been a more dramatic career than that of Samson, and it has never been more dramatically depicted than by Evangelist Ham. His rending of the lion, his vengeance upon the Philistines by setting fire to their grain fields by means of three hundred foxes, his carrying away the gates of Gaza, his slaying of a thousand Philistines with the jawbone of an ass, his pulling down the temple upon his drunken tormentors, all were set forth in graphic language and the moral lesson was driven home in each case.

"Samson commenced his downward career by acting as toastmaster at a heathen banquet; he ended it by making sport as a blind slave at a drunken banquet of the same heathens and pulled the banquet temple down on them and himself burying all together in one common tomb.

"All traitors are despicable; but the traitor to God who made you and endowed you and has preserved you and redeemed you, is the most despicable traitor conceivable."

NOTABLE CAST WITH NAZIMOVA

Great Star Has Well-Known Players in Her Support in "Toys of Fate," A Play That Sounds the Very Depths of the SOUL.

Nazimova, the great Russian star of "Toys of Fate," which will be the special attraction at the American theatre beginning today is surrounded with a brilliant cast of celebrated players in this Screen Classics' production of luxe, released by Metro. Every member of the cast is well known to theatregoers.

Charles Bryant, who appeared opposite the star in her wonderful picture "Revelation," again is her leading man, essaying the role of Henry Livingston, a young American lawyer. Mr. Bryant played in support of Nazimova in "War Brides," both in vaudeville and in the screen version, and in dramatic productions such as "Bella Donna." He is also playing with the noted player in her series of Ibsen revivals on the speaking stage.

Irving Cummings, one of America's favorite screen players, is cast as Grego, the gypsy lover. He has been seen as leading man with Ethel Barrymore in Metro's "An American Widow," and was one of the first players ever engaged by Metro, being a player in its initial picture, "The Three of Us." Mr. Cummings has a long list of screen successes to his credit, including "The Diamond From the Sky," "Rasputin, the Black Monk," and "The Whip."

SHELTON ESTATE SUED BY MIAMI MINING MAN

Suit has been entered in the district court against T. O. Dandridge, administrator of the estate of the late J. W. Shelton, for money in the sum of $6,105.00.

The suit is filed by F. W. Evans, said to be a mining man of Miami. The petition states that Mr. Shelton gave a note to Mr. Evans on April 25, 1918, due one month later, which was for the sum of $4,000.00, with interest, attorney's fees, etc. Another note was given May 15, 1918, in the sum of $1,000.00 with interest, etc. According to the statement the total sum amounts to $6,104.99.

The petitioner, Mr. Evans, is represented in the suit by B. H. Epperson, of Ada.

NO SPECIAL SESSION TO RATIFY SUFFRAGE

OKLAHOMA CITY, July 17.—There will be no extraordinary session of the Oklahoma legislature for the purpose of ratifying the women's suffrage amendment of the federal constitution. Governor Robertson announced that he is convinced that inasmuch as Oklahoma has equal suffrage that the ratification is not of local importance and that other states that do not permit women to vote on all matters should be the ones to furnish a sufficient number to make the enfranchisement of women national.

Congressman Scott Ferris wired the governor last week requesting the session be called for one day to ratify suffrage. It would not have been possible to complete the requirements of the joint legislative rules in less than six or eight days and the expense entailed would probably have reached $12,000 to $15,000.

HAM TAKES POT SHOT AT CLOTH

EVANGELIST IN MORNING SERMON HAS A FEW REMARKS ABOUT WHY PASTORS FAIL.

At the morning meeting at the Tabernacle today, there were three Baptist deacons and a like number of Methodist stewards. The following business houses were represented in the audience: The Haynes Hardware company, Hardin and Lawrence, Jackson Furniture Store, Lucas O. K. Auction House, Hughes of the Electric Shoe Shop, The First National Bank, and the Oklahoma State Bank.

Rev. Ham began by assuring his auditors that there was not a church in Ada that God could not get along without. "A bunch of church members are blown up like a poisoned pup because the evangelist has been talking straight," exclaimed the speaker. "Well, you ought to hear my message tonight on Mayor Lot, the man who was blinded by the world, if you think I have been hitting hard heretofore."

"I will take a text from Joshua: 'What wilt thou do for thy great name?' The prophet felt that he was blown up, but it sometimes takes man's failure to glorify the name of God. So when God found this old prophet down on his face whining he commanded him to get up and shut up. Joshua was careless or he would not have let sin march with his soldiers. You pastors are careless, too, when you allow vile hypocrites to remain in the fellowship of your churches. Some of you stewards would fire a man from your store or bank for a vile turn he would take, but you would raise a howl to high heaven if your pastor should wake up and demand that the man guilty of the same offense be fired out of the church of the living God. There are men active in all your churches that are also active in the work of the devil. I tell you, no man is fit to be a church officer who does not control his family. I am right or the Bible is a lie. You old counterfeit, you—you don't contribute to the success of the church or this revival. You are ulcers, tumors, cancers and will have to be cut out. I would choose to be a traitor to Uncle Sam in time of war sooner than I would turn traitor to Christ. You are a vile traitor to Christ and your presence in the churches of this city is a disgrace to God and his church in the world.

"God can bring a revival through the co-operation of a little bunch that come clean and one can chase a thousand. You preachers and church clerks—how you lie when you write church letters and certificates. You, pastors—how you lie when you preach funeral sermons. The worldly wicked people of the city laugh at the preacher who lauds a dead hypocrite to the skies for fear that he will offend some weak-kneed saint."

At this juncture Professor Ramsay asked a question concerning a Sunday school superintendent who issued cards to a dance at his house, and wanted to know what the speaker thought about it. Rev. Ham firmly stated that the Sunday school in question needed a new superintendent, and his wife needed a new husband.

"Some of your old church officials ought to feel ashamed of yourselves whether you do or not. God will bless this meeting when we keep hammering away until the devil's gang in the church lines up where they belong. Say, bud, when you get cold feet you had better beat it." (This remark was addressed to the pastors). "Every old outlaw in town has confidence in Ham and Ramsay. When you pastors get your churches sifted and line up a few that are willing to stand hitched, we'll have a great victory here in Ada for God. We can't get on without God, but we can get on without you old hypocrites."

"The prophet was commanded to put the accursed thing away. When he did this he got the victory. When you turn out about half the dirty bunch you have in your churches, wonders will begin in this meeting. Lop them off, turn them out, withdraw fellowship from them, come clean or you will have to go to the rock pile. Neutrals now will look mighty yellow when the revival closes."

"ARE ALL OF US TOYS OF FATE?"

"Toys of Fate!" What are any of us, except toys of fate? That's what a man says when he is "blue"—when things will not go right—when destiny itself seems to balk him in every effort. But, as Brown says, "Sometimes the worst turns the best to the brave."

The black moment's at end. Well, that is the way it is with Azah, the fascinating gypsy princess in "Toys of Fate," in which the great Russian artist, Nazimova, stars. When there seems to be no way out—when misery has taken possession of her soul—then comfort with his healing power revives and refreshes, and love gladdens her.

"Toys of Fate" is vivid, vital, dramatic. It is the story of a child of nature, brought into contact with the ways of civilization. Azah suf-
